

The Enchanted Scooter

AND THE ADVENTURES WITH MAYA

Introduction

This story starts with a scooter, BUT not just any old scooter. This scooter has a special power, a power that no other scooter has. This power is the power of... (Drumroll please!) Life! Now you might as well be thinking, what type of power is this??? That's OK. I'll explain it to you and your curious mind so you get your answers! Firstly, the power of life works like this; (it's quite basic and short thankfully). The scooter comes to life and has its own daily routine AND feelings. So, when it's sad it'll take you to a sad place. (Weird right?) And if it's feeling happy it'll take you to a happy place. Obviously, you'll also be able to take it somewhere as well. There's no way a SCOOTER will be able to take FULL control of the owner! (Right?) But the scooter might just be a LITTLE ignorant and (you guessed it) ignore your commands. Another problem is you can't see its feelings, so if you want an adventure and hop on to a scooter that's angry, you'll have NO idea whatsoever! Also, you'll regret wanting to go on an adventure since its angry! (Remember what I told you?!) But this story isn't on a guide of what a scooter does if it has the power of life. So, I better jump right in!

Chapter 1: Maya Lee

There is a good friend of mine who told me a story of the adventures she had with her Enchanted Scooter and the girl's name was Maya. I'm sure you must have heard of her, as she was and still is the ONLY person in the WORLD who has been to the magical lands and worlds we never knew existed until now and has an Enchanted Scooter. If you're confused because you have a friend called Maya, then I mean Maya Lee. Does that ring a bell? If not, then you should watch the news more often. Well, maybe I should tell you about the lands and worlds she came across. So, sit back, relax, get your coffee and snacks, and let the words flow through you like music.

Chapter 2: The Land of Rock-About

Maya Lee has had her scooter for only 1 year but despite that, she's had a handful of adventures but I'm only going to tell you 2 of them, so let's go! The first adventure Maya told me about was the Land of Rock-About. So, one fine morning, the Enchanted Scooter felt cheeky, so when Maya hopped on for an adventure (hoping for a nice one!) the scooter zoomed off, nearly THROWING Maya OFF!!! But thankfully, she held on. Now, Maya has had so many more adventures before this one, but I guess she decided to tell me this one first. So, Maya didn't know where she was off to, as always, but she didn't have a good feeling about it. When they arrived, she didn't know what mind the Enchanted Scooter had this morning because all there was, was an oak door covered with vines and had a rustic gold door knocker. However, before Maya could start taking all of this in the Enchanted Scooter literally THREW Maya off! Maya landed with a bump! She was infuriated! Then, suddenly, the scooter ran towards Maya and sent her flying all the way to the vine covered oak door! She had no choice but to open the door, so she did. The moment she stepped inside; Maya started to roll away from the entrance! Maya had to cling onto the freshly cut grass for dear life or else she'd be thrown off for the 3rd time in the day! Then a bright idea came into her mind. It wasn' t an idea that nobody would ever be able to think of, but it was a good and simple idea. You see, Maya has always wanted to be a mountaineer, so she thought that for practice she could climb all the way up to the entrance/exit! So, that' s what she did. However, when Maya came back to the oak door, the scooter wasn' t there! But Maya didn' t care.

“If the scooter gets lost then I won' t care because it deserves to be!” said Maya to herself.

But there was no chance that the Enchanted Scooter was lost because when Maya reached the path going back to her home, the scooter was waiting for her! But the scooter was feeling sad inside. Maya somehow recognised this, so she said its okay. Then, the scooter was careful not throw her off as they went back home.

Chapter 3: The Land of Live Fruit and Veg

This adventure was Maya's favourite, my favourite AND the scooter's as well! It will be yours as well once you hear it. Now, let's jump right in because I can't wait to tell you! It was the summer holidays when this adventure happened. Maya was sketching the marsh house in front of her home (she's a wonderful sketcher!) when The Enchanted Scooter zoomed in to her office and nearly made Maya jump! The scooter then started making some really weird noises! At first, Maya didn't know why the scooter was making weird noises or why it barged in, in the first place! Then, after 5 minutes, she realized that her Enchanted Scooter wanted an adventure, so she took the scooter to the front door and off they went! Maya agreed because number 1; It was lovely weather and, number 2; the scooter was feeling REALLY happy! Soon after, they reached the land which only the scooter knew what it was. That was quite mysterious, wasn't it? Well, behold the land of... Live Fruit and Veg! Laughing yet? Well Maya was, because she was feeling quite nervous to open the door as she didn't know what was behind. Fortunately, no fruit or veg took any notice of her or else she'd have been in deep trouble! Maya FINALLY stopped laughing and figured out what to do. She thought that maybe she should check out the food market because she had one HUGE question in her mind: What did they eat??? I don't blame her for pondering over that question because if fruit and veg ate fruit and veg then that would DEFINITELY be weird. Anyway, back to the story. Maya hurried off to the market which she could see in the distance and when she got there, she immediately wished that she were one of them. But why? You may be asking. Well, when she got to the food market, there were piles upon piles of CANDY!!! How great! Later Maya found out that they eat CANDY and drink HOT CHOCOLATE to LIVE! Also, there's NO unhealthy OR healthy food and that all candies are good for you. That is SO cool. Even I wish I were a fruit or veg in that world! Maya knew that she better take some home. You see, Maya ALWAYS takes money with her because if she sees something that she REALLY likes in a different world or land, she better pay for it. So, she switches the money to the currency that she needs and voila! She can take it home! After Maya bought the candy, she decided to buy a map so that she's able to head off anywhere she likes. When she got the map, she decided to go to the water park shown not too far from where she was. Maya loves them! She had so much fun! After a while it started to get dark so Maya had to hurry home because if you aren't one of the citizens and you're a tourist in one of these wacky worlds and if you don't go back before dark then you aren't allowed to step outside of the world.

There' s even an enchantment that you must drink for this to work. For that reason, Maya headed home quickly and snuggled up into bed. Unfortunately, this means that I must leave you guys, so I hope you now know what the Enchanted Scooter does!

At this moment, about 200 meters away in the garage, the scooter should have been laying there nodding off. However, at the edge of the neighbourhood, where the infamous haunted Bones Mansion stood in a derelict state, the scooter was there, laying broken in half, somewhere deep in the bowels of the mansion.
